NATADOLA BEACH

Nestled amongst the white sands of the Coral Coast, Natadola Beach is considered one of Fiji's most beautiful (yet unpredictable) beaches. Conditions can be quite rough so, unless you're extremely brave, perhaps resist the temptation to windsurf or swim into deep water. An untouchable beauty, Natadola Beach is best enjoyed on the sand or on horse back. Take a horse ride down the beach and enjoy a refreshing green coconut. Indulge in a beach-side massage or walk along the shore for stunning sunset photos.

PARADISE BEACH

As the name might suggest, Paradise Beach is a sought-after destination for tourists wanting to escape the town for memorable holiday experiences. Located on Beqa Island, Paradise Beach is a 12-acre property designed to give visitors a taste of simple Fijian fun: food, drinks, snorkelling, waterfalls, hammocks, and music, all in a day-trip. Once you reach Beqa Island and get a dose of island seclusion and relaxation, you won't want to leave. Enjoy your piece of paradise while it lasts!

SIGATOKA RIVER SAFARI

A trip through Fiji's Sigatoka River is an unforgettable way to discover the Fijian landscape. Departing from the town of Sigatoka, you'll learn about Fijian culture and village lifestyle in the half-day trip. Delve into Fijian history aboard your custom built safari jetboat. Tour guides share local history, customs and even Fiji's cannibal past, as they guide you through the scenic Sigatoka Valley.

WATER SPORTS

Local operator Rivers Fiji has a variety of tour packages ranging from kayaking to white water rafting, all departing from Pacific Harbour. Explore the Wainikoroiluva River and the Upper Navua Gorge from an inflatable kayak or whitewater raft and immerse yourself in the forests, villages and beautiful coloured waters. If you're keen for adventure take the ultimate 8-day trip from the highlands to the islands.

We made a reservation, and our table was ready before we arrived.

It is always nice having either lunch or dinner here. I always go for the kokoda and panfried coral trout which are so yummy. It is good to ask if they have certain dishes because when there is a lunch time crowd they tend to sell-out.

They do give generous serves. Dessert was also nice. But I thought our coffee took a bit longer than it should. In all the food was excellent and...

I had been told about Eden Bistro, but finally decided to try it with a few guests from Tahiti. We had a fantastic meal - the menu had combination of cuisines and was mouthwatering. Friendly and knowledgeable service. The food was excellent and so was the decor full of local paintings giving the restaurant a great atmosphere. This restaurant will now be on my regular list.

Located about 64 kilometres north of the main island Viti Levu, Vanua Levu has been described as an ideal place to visit 'The Real Fiji' as it's unlike the other resort-filled islands. The main town of Savusavu is renowned for diving and water-based activities. Ideal for couples and solo travellers, this island provides a more secluded escape with plenty of transport options to the other islands.

Our family of 5 people stayed in Savasi for 5 nights last week. It was really great. All the staff were very friendly and the service was excellent. Our price almost included everything except activities outside of the island and drinks. They were very generous not like other big hotel brands which are quite commercial. We need not concern much about extra charges. Each of our meals was set up in different tables and locations so we could enjoy...

Honeymooners. We did a phenomenal amount of research for this trip including which islands, time of year, price, travel agencies, etc. We ultimately decided to go with Costco travel to book our vacation and Fiji was the destination.

Sitting at the airport on our way back to Canada! So sad after an amazing 10 days at our home Jean Michel Cousteau resort. I traveled with my husband and 6 year old son from Canada. No a/c , no phone? Who cares, you won't need it because you will be with a group of amazing people that you will not even need it. Wi-Fi works great. We downloaded movies before we left, and did not really watch them. Starting from the staff, a group of AMAZING, kind...

Chef Vijen honed his culinary skills at the famed JM Cousteau Resort years ago and it shows. His dishes are always presented nicely and the food is usually quite good. We've eaten here many times and it's a nice spot for visitors to the area. However, as a local, I am not used to paying tourist prices for my meals so only dine here once in a great while since there are several other restaurants offering comparable dishes for less.

The restaurant is clean, bright & cheerful and the staff makes you feel so welcome, like old friends. You won't find a nicer place to enjoy a meal or coffee & dessert! They are now serving delicious, huge beef burgers!
